

I firmly believe that the no call option should be left as it now is. I have never had such peace and quiet and undisturbed family time since it went into effect and I signed on for it. Life is so short that we shouldn't be hassled by salesmen or the like. There are more important things in life besides listening to sales pitches. If I need something I'll call them. DON'T CALL ME